Vice President, Clinical Consulting
Segal
Austin, Texas

As a vice president of clinical consulting at Segal, Sarah Gunderson consults on benefit design and clinical program implementation alongside health informatics and health analytics. She began her career in inpatient psychiatric nursing, eventually transitioning to inpatient orthopedics, wound care, and skilled nursing leadership. While working in managed care, she developed behavioral health and medical workflows for a regional health plan's medical management team. Sarah has coded and designed leadership dashboards to monitor population health, member engagement in case management, and high-risk members identified through predictive analytics. She regularly speaks at conferences and has authored numerous articles. Sarah received her master of science degree in health informatics from the University of Illinois at Chicago and her bachelor's degree in nursing from St. Olaf College. She is board certified in informatics nursing.
