Co-Founder and CEO
Living Wage Institute
New York, New York

Sara Horowitz is Co-Founder and CEO of the Living Wage Institute, a benefit corporation built on 20+ years of Living Wage Calculator research. She bridges rigorous data and real-world impact, building the compensation tools that make a better future of work possible for America's hourly workforce. Before co-founding LWI, she built her engineering career across data visualization and financial platforms, including six years at JUST Capital where she led the COVID-19 Corporate Response Tracker. Sara holds a BA degree from NYU.
