

Matthew Jackson

Senior Vice President
Segal
New York, New York

Matt is a Senior Vice President in the insurance brokerage practice in Segal's New York office. He has over 25 years of experience in the insurance industry. Previously the East and New York Region leader for the insurance brokerage practice, he now serves a business development role, deepening client relationships, for the insurance brokerage practice.

Matt has extensive experience in Segal's core services: fiduciary liability, fidelity bonds, employment practices liability and cyber liability insurance. He is involved in the service of many national benefits funds and coordinates marketing and service efforts for Segal in the New York and East regions. He also manages a large book of business for public sector and multiemployer benefit plans and many specialized retiree health VEBAs.

Matt first joined Segal as a part-time file clerk in the Seattle office. After graduating from the University of Washington in 2002, he joined the New York office as an Associate Broker in the Fiduciary Liability Insurance Practice (the precursor to Segal Select). After several promotions, Matt was named a Vice President in 2010 and then Senior Vice President in 2015. Matt received a BA in Geography from the University of Washington in 2002. He holds resident property and casualty broker and agent licenses and a Life and Health insurance license in the state of New York, as well as non-resident licenses in all 50 states. He also holds the Registered Professional Liability Underwriters (RPLU) designation from the Professional Liability Underwriting Society (PLUS).

Matt completed the Cyber COPE® Insurance CertificationSM (CCIC) program in 2020. The certification is offered by a partnership between Chubb Insurance and Carnegie Mellon University's Heinz College of Information Systems and Public Policy. The certification acknowledges his full understanding of industry best practices in cybersecurity risk management, governance and operations. Matt has been quoted by media outlets, published in various industry publications, and spoken at industry events as an expert on fiduciary liability protection. Matt regularly presents to boards of trustees on cyber liability, bonds, fiduciary liability and professional liability insurance topics. He also participates and instructs in many Segal-sponsored cyber continuing education, webinars and seminars, where he addresses fiduciary and cyber insurance issues.
